

Ellie Nieves

Women's Leadership Speaker, Writer and Coach

Helping High Achieving Women to Show Up, Speak Up & Step Up in Their Careers.

Ellie Nieves is the Founder & President of Leadership Strategies for Women, LLC. She develops seminars and webinars for companies and associations that want to grow their emerging women leaders into effective managers and executives.

Ellie launched her career as a young lawyer in NYC politics. She was often the youngest and many times the only woman sitting at the table. Today, she is Vice President and Counsel of Government Affairs for a Fortune 250 company where she briefs and provides strategic advice to the CEO and senior management on relevant legislative and political issues.

Ellie graduated from Fordham University with a BA in Communications. She earned her JD from the Elisabeth Haub School of Law at Pace University. She received her MBA from New York University.

PRAISE FOR ELLIE'S CORPORATE SEMINARS:

"Ellie Nieves is an effective women's Leadership speaker because she provides concrete examples of strategies to put into action and connects well with her audience in a short time frame. She is able to deliver thoughtful and realistic solutions to tough work problems. Our employees continue to rave about her "Show up, Speak up and Step up" presentation. This presentation is highly recommended for companies looking to motivate and guide their employees up the corporate ladder."

~ Lissa Bourjolly, MTV Networks

PRAISE FOR ELLIE'S FAITH-BASED LEADERSHIP SEMINARS:

"Ellie speaks with a confidence, humility and honesty rarely found in the Christian business community. She matter-of-factly speaks of her rapid rise in her professional career and is transparent in relaying the internal struggle she faced during her quick ascension to the top. She has transformed the certitude she previously had in herself, into a wonderful boldness for communicating what Christ has done in her life since she has yielded to His voice."

~ Wynter Galindez, Christian Legal Society
